- 1.3 Together with the Supervisory Board, the ExCo is responsible for the company's corporate governance structure. They render account about this structure to the General Meeting in the annual report. Each substantial change to be made to the company's corporate governance structure will be submitted to the General Meeting for discussion as a separate item on the agenda.
- 1.4 In discharging its role, the ExCo will act in the interests of NWB Bank and the enterprise associated with it, weighing the interests of the bank's stakeholders, such as its customers, investors, shareholders and employees. In doing so, the ExCo will also consider the bank's continuity and role in society, as well as laws, regulations and codes applicable to the bank. With due observance of the risk appetite approved by the Supervisory Board, the ExCo will be responsible for weighing the bank's commercial interests and risks to be run.
